Minor civil divisions.—The primary divisions of the counties of Florida are known as election precincts. These election precincts include the secondary divisions, which are incorporated as cities, towns, and villages. Table 4 shows the population of each county by election precincts, cities, towns, and villages for the last three censuses. The population of the secondary divisions is shown in italics under the population of the election precincts in which they are respectively located. Several of the cities and towns are coextensive with the precincts in which they are located, and others comprise two or more precincts, or parts of precincts. Where a city or other incorporated place occupies parts of two or more precincts, the total population of the place is given in connection with the presentation for the first precinct.

Changes in the boundaries of precincts and incorporated places between 1920 and 1930 are indicated by footnotes on Table 4; for changes between 1920 and 1930, reference may be made to the Reports of the Fourteenth Census (1920), Volume I, Table 53.

TABLE 4.—POPULATION OF COUNTIES BY MINOR CIVIL DIVISIONS: 1930, 1920, AND 1910

[The "precincts" shown in the table are election precincts. Where no comparative figures are shown, the counties have been organized at some time between the censuses or have been redistricted. For other changes in boundaries, see footnotes; for those between 1910 and 1920, see Reports of the Fourteenth Census (1920), Vol. I, Table 53]
