Counties.—Table 3 shows the population of the 14 counties of Arizona from 1890 to 1930, together with the land area of each county and its population per square mile in 1930. Of these counties, 11 increased in population between 1920 and 1930, while 3 counties show decreases. Maricopa County, which includes the city of Phoenix, shows the largest increase, both in number and in rate. No new counties have been organized, and there have been no changes in county boundaries since 1920.

¹ State total for 1900 includes population (3,055) of San Carlos Indian Reservation in Gila and Graham Counties, not returned separately by counties; figures for Gila exclude estimated population (2,272) and figures for Graham exclude estimated population (795). Total for 1890 includes population (28,923) of all Indian reservations specially enumerated in 1890 and not distributed by counties.

² Part of Apache taken to form Navajo in 1886.

³ Cocconino organized from part of Yavapai in 1911.

⁴ Part of Graham taken to form Greenlee in 1911.

⁵ Part of Pima taken to form Santa Cruz in 1899.

Minor civil divisions.—The primary divisions of the counties of Arizona are election precincts, justice precincts, or school districts. These precincts or districts include the secondary divisions, which are known as cities and towns. Table 4 shows the population of each county by precincts or districts, cities, and towns for the last two censuses. The population of the cities and towns is shown in italics under the population of the precincts or districts in which they are respectively situated. Where an incorporated place occupies two or more precincts or parts of precincts, the total population of the place is given in connection with the presentation for the first precinct. The population of Yuma, which includes five entire precincts, is shown in Roman type, followed by the precinct population in italic type. Mesa and Tempe towns are similarly presented.

Changes in the boundaries of precincts or districts and incorporated places between 1920 and 1930 are indicated by footnotes on Table 4.

TABLE 4.—POPULATION OF COUNTIES BY MINOR CIVIL DIVISIONS: 1930 AND 1920

[The "precincts" shown in the table are election precincts or justice precincts; for certain counties not organized into precincts the figures are presented by "districts," that is, school districts. Because of numerous changes in boundaries of precincts, no comparative figures for 1920 are given. Counties showing totals, but no other comparative figures for 1920, have been redistricted since 1920. The Indian reservations, for which figures were shown separately in 1920, have been absorbed by the precincts in which they are located.]
