My dear Stewart:-

I sent a Guide to Mrs. Musie soon as her letter was received from Pascagoula but it looks like she expected it to come from Mobile and hence she could not understand the delay.

You ask where I am and what I'm doing. Well here I am and I'm making more maps. Nothing very new in that except the maps.

During the summer I ran over to New Orleans over the southern route and returned via the northern. Saw Lucien Lyons in his pretty suit and it was well worth the journey. Sent word to you by several people who were going on easterly. Had a fine time and got lots of new material for routings, especially between Houston and El Paso. Found a logical line for the O.S.T. farther south that links up a lot of military camps and is preferable to the one from Dallas west. Will have it all published in a road book before the end of the year but not as the official guide of the O.S.T.

I'm in class 1 and we are having our first cool weather here earlier than usual. But it will sure warm up when we get the peace news so we can continue the celebration that was started so nicely.

Now, that is about all for me. You can delight me by telling about yourself through a whole letter. I hear from Mrs. Phillips occasionally and her letters are always full of news of the south and the O.S.T. She is certainly the liveliest man in north Florida.

I would like to travel and rerun the O.S.T. east of New Orleans again but will have to do it at a time when there is more money in sight. It took me quite a while to pay up for that little excursion.

The Jefferson want a book from Winnerego to New Orleans and I may take it on in the spring. Road matters will sure boom after the war.

Write me a long letter, Stewart. I like them.

Very sincerely
