Extensive construction is going forward and interested men and women from the Atlantic to the Pacific are at work making the OST a great and nationally attractive highway.

The Old Spanish Trail connects the playgrounds of Florida with the playgrounds of California and links the playgrounds that lie between. It will bring to the cities and towns along the way a continual tide of tourist and automobile travel and a permanent pleasure to the people. The Old Spanish Trail will revive and keep alive the remarkable history of old Spanish days, a history that reaches from Florida to California and offering historical associations more romantic than anything in the land. Those were the days of Spanish splendor, a Cavalier and Conqueror, of Columbus, Cortez and Pizarro, of Ponce de Leon, de Soto and Coronado and of the great orders of priests whose missions are scattered along the Trail. The Spanish reamed of gold and glory and they sought for it among the fabled Seven Cities of Cibola in Arizona and New Mexico and in the realms of the Gran Quivera in Texas and Kansas, they searched for the Great Kingdom of the Incas, for the Mountain of Silver, the Streams of Pearls, the Provinces of Wealth and the Fountain of Youth. They died in lustre to their period and won new empires and left their names to them. To-day the Floridas and the New Spain of those days are the winter retreats of the people of the North American continent. The Old Spanish Trail can and should become the most famous and most traveled continental highway in the land.
